

Continue your education and deepen your understanding of the natural world around you with these additional resources:

Whose Land Am I On? Here are 3 ways to check out native territories.

1. Check out the native territory in your area and around the world at <https://native-land.ca/>
2. Enter your city, state, or zip code to acknowledge which tribe's land you are on at <https://land.codeforanchorage.org/>
3. Text zip code or city, state to (855) 917-5263

What Can I Do? Sign a petition to return ancestral land to Tolowa Dee-ni' Nation here:
(link: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSeZOK3e-1dDrrVOtDthe\_bg38-Vbc4nek4CpoH3v4zh\_J3uGA/viewform )

How Can I Learn More About Native and Invasive Plants? Here are useful plant identifying apps and websites.

1. www.inaturalist.org (website) iNaturalist (app)
2. Plant Snap, Seek (apps)
3. Check out the California Native Plant Society webpage and learn about your local chapter and volunteer days at <https://www.cnps.org/>
4. Check out <https://www.calflora.org/> for flower identification and observation data
5. Flora of North America for flora beyond California at http://floranorthamerica.org/Main\_Page
6. Explore your neighborhood/yard/park and see what you find!

What About Soil?

Learn about the soil type in your neighborhood by checking out the SoilWeb site at <https://casoilresource.lawr.ucdavis.edu/gmap/>

Any Fungus Lovers?

Check out this amazing Ted Talk about how fungus and trees talk to each other:
<https://youtu.be/Un2yBglAxYs>

Blooket: <https://www.blooket.com/set/60c8d30d79ebde001b1458db>

VFT: <https://youtu.be/On3DqXBVFLM>

